this. Think how your fathers left their native land.”

But chill with ice and snow—
So let's not try to climb up there
But linger in the valleys where

INTRODUCTION

IN the hope that it may incite others to preserve further records, this little pamphlet is published as a very slight contribution to the history of the Van Nice or Van Nuys family, as the name was written by our not very remote ancestors. It is still so spelled by many branches of the family.

As we know that our earliest ancestor in America came from Holland, we suppose that he came from the village of Nuis in that country, whence the name Van Nuis or Van Nuys, Van in names meaning from. It is only a few hundred years since surnames came into use, the individual in earlier times having been designated by his birth-place or occupation or by some peculiarity of appearance or character.

Theodore Banta says, "As is well known, the use of family names was not common among the early emigrants from Holland to New Netherlands. To distinguish one John from another, for example, there was added the baptismal name of his father, usually with the addition of s, se, or sen, indicating the relationship. Thus, Epke, the son of Jacob, was known as Epke Jacobs or Jacobse. Jan from the town of Wycke was called Jan Van Wycke to distinguish him from Jan from Norden who was called Jan Van Norden; or Jan the cooper was known as Jan Kuiper."

If the early settlers of New York and New Jersey had not been far more careful and conscientious than we of the present time in the preserving of records of births, baptisms, marriages, civil contracts, wills, conveyances, etc., it would have been impossible to obtain much of the data upon which most of the earlier items of this sketch are based. Their family records were kept religiously in the family bibles as well as in the church and town records.

Ralph Voorhees, writing in 1873, says, "In these bibles the names of the children were recorded, and as they passed away the succeeding generations registered their names beneath the first, and so the register was kept up from generation to generation. Some of these bibles may yet be found along the Raritan and Millstone in New Jersey, from 150 to 250 years old, and in a good state of preservation. They are the best genealogical records of our ancient families in existence."

I greatly regret that I am unable to carry down other branches of the family farther than they are here given, but have inserted what data was obtainable—from what ever source—as it will help in identifying others of the family wherever we may meet them.

May I express the hope that any into whose hands this may fall, if at all interested, will let me know of any errors they may note and will also send to me any additional information they may be able to give concerning the families mentioned.

Much of the credit for the records of the earlier generations must be given to the work of Teunis G. Bergen and Theodore Banta, whose researches among old Colonial Records made available much of the material concerning all the early Dutch settlers. The Honeyman records were also helpful. I am greatly indebted as well to those of the present generation whose interest and co-operation have made it possible to obtain the records necessary.

FAMILY HISTORY

CHAPTER I

UCKE Janse Van Nuys was the common ancestor of the Van Nuys family in America.

In 1651 he with his wife, Magdalena Pieterse, and some of his children emigrated from Holland to New Amsterdam (now New York.) He was a carpenter, and his name appears in numerous early records in New Amsterdam, Brooklyn, and Flatbush, from which records these items were obtained.

On May 6, 1653, he sold his house and lot in New Amsterdam, and in 1654 he was employed as master carpenter in the erection of the first church on Long Island, in Flatbush, near New Amsterdam.

There are records of purchases of several tracts of land in this region. In 1673 he was appointed Schepen or magistrate, by Governor Colve, an office similar to that of alderman of the present time, and in 1674 he was one of the representatives to the "Convention of Delegates" called by the governor to meet in New Orange (Albany) after the capture of the Netherlands from the British.

His name is in the list of those who in 1687 took the oath of allegiance to Great Britain after New Netherlands had been re-taken by the British. A fac-simile of his signature is given in Stiles' History of Kings County, New York, so we know that he was not an illiterate man.

He was three times married. His second marriage was to Lysbert Clausen and the third to Gurtruyd Jacobse.

Of his nine children five were born in America. The nine were Annetie, Gurtruyd, Janneke, Jan, Abigail, Pieter, Jacobus, Femitie and Ida. Very different names these from those borne by the descendants of the present day.

His will was dated May 15, 1694 and probated in 1698.

CHAPTER III

Descendants of JACOBUS AUCKES VAN NUYS, (seventh son of Aucke Janse Van Nuys, the first settler) and Maria Willemse (Cornel) Van Nuys.

As far as we can learn, all the descendants of Jan, one of the two sons of Aucke Janse Van Nuys who had families, remained in New York and New Jersey, at least for several generations, as did also many of the family of Jacobus, the other son, through whom we trace our lineage.

However, some of Jacobus' family, who settled on the Raritan and Millstone rivers in New Jersey, by the fourth generation were emigrating to Kentucky. So we of the present generation of Vannices (in Iowa and Nebraska) must trace our ancestry through the states of Indiana, Kentucky, New Jersey, New York, thence through Holland to France, from which country our forefathers fled at the time of the terrible Massacre of St. Bartholomew in 1572.

Jacobus and Maria Van Nuys had nine children (third generation in America).

1-3 WILLIAM Van Nuys, married Magdalena Joost. He died in 1771. It is said that the Van Nuyses now in Kings County, New York, are descendants of this William.

Children:

- 1-4 William Van Nuys, married Annetje Verkerk.
- 2-4 Maria Van Nuys, married Ferdinand Van Sicklen.
- 3-4 Joost or George Van Nuys, bap., Sept. 16, 1716, married April 26, 1744, Elizabeth Emmans.

Children:

- 1-5 Sarah Van Nuys, bap., August 19, 1750, married 1781, William Van Nuys her cousin.
- 2-5 Wilhelm Van Nuys, bap., March 8, 1752, died 1805. Married Nelly Hubbard.
- 3-5 Joost Van Nuys, married Jane Vanderbilt.
- 4-5 Elizabeth Van Nuys, born Feb. 2, 1762, married Winant Bennett.
- 5-5 Johannes Van Nuys, born Nov. 25, 1763, died Oct. 16, 1826, married Nelly Lott.

- 1_6 George, of Flatlands, born Sept. 10, 1802.

- 1_7 Cornelia, married Holmes Van Brunt.

Tunis Bergen.
7_6 Magdalen, born, 1816, married Couvenhofen.
6_5 Jacobus, died single.
7_5 Helen, married 1764, Jacob Stellenwerf.
4_4 Jacobus Van Nuys of New Utrecht, married Sarah Rapelje.
2_3 JAN Van Nuys, married 1716, Adriaentje Wycoff.
Removed to New Brunswick, N. J., about 1727. Will probated 1747.

Children:

- 1_4 Jacobus Van Nuys.
2_4 Margrietje, bap. April 23, 1725, in New Utrecht.
3_4 Lena Van Nuys.
4_4 Elizabeth Van Nuys.
5_4 Ann Van Nuys. All this family lived in New Jersey.
3_3 AUCKE, married 1715, Aeltje Ammerman. Resided in New Utrecht.
Children:
1_4 Catrina, bap., June 23, 1721.
2_4 Isaac, bap., 1732.
3_4 Elizabeth Griggs.

- 4_3 ISAAC, born Oct. 20, 1695, married Catrina.

This Isaac was the father of the Isaac whose entire family we have tried to locate on the family tree. He settled at Millstone, N. J., about 1727. We do not know the surname of his wife, but know it was Catrina from the baptismal record of their son Cornelius, which reads in the list of baptisms at Millstone:

SARAH A. W. VAN NICE
Wife of Peter C. Van Nice
(See Page 166)

"July 13, 1735, Cornelius, son of Isak Van Nuys and wife Catrina." It is curious to note that previous to the Revolutionary War these entries were all made in Dutch.

Carpenter, in speaking of Derrick Hoagland in "The Hoagland Family", says: "He bought, about 1721, lot 6 of the Hoolingen tract. His land lay to the westward of the Millstone river. Retaining the eastern part of the purchase, he sold 114 acres of the western part to Isaac Van Nuys." Then he goes on to say that this was the father of the Isaac whose wife's maiden name was Quick, and whose brother married Maria Hoagland. This, together with original records of agreements, and notes, receipts, etc., in possession of S. N. Van Nice, descended from his son Peter, and Charles C. Van Nuys, descended from his son Teunis, establish our line of descent from Aucke Janse Van Nuys through Jacobus, Isaac, Sr. and Isaac, Jr.

Children of Isaac Jacobus Van Nuys and Catrina Van Nuys of Millstone, N. J.:

- 1-4 John, born 1720, in New York. In 1741, married Martha Van Arsdalen. He died 1763, having resided most of his life in Somerset County, New Jersey.

Children:

- 1-5 Jane Van Nuys, born March 23, 1743; married Peter Bergen of Somerset County.
- 2-5 Isaac Van Nuys, born 1746; married Nelly Quick.
- 3-5 John Van Nuys, born 1750, died 1780.
- 4-5 Jacobus, born 1753, died 1836; married Catherine Ditmas.

- 3-4 Jacobus Van Nuys, married Maria Hoagland, who was born in 1729, and was a daughter of Christopher Hoagland. They were both members of Harlingen church in New Jersey. He died in 1805. No issue.
- 4-4 Cornelius Van Nuys was born July 13, 1735, and went to Kentucky when he was about sixty years of age. We have been unable to get any record of his family.
- 5-4 Mary Oakey Van Nuys, married Abraham Heyer and lived in New Jersey.
- 5-3 JACOBUS VAN NUYS, lived in New Jersey.
Children:
- 1-4 Annetie, born March 2, 1753, died Aug. 24, 1832; married Simon Lott.
- 6-3 MAGDALINA.
- 7-3 MARGRIETA.
- 8-3 ELIZABETH.
- 9-3 MARIA.

that child of my son Albert named Roelof, my gun and Great Bybel. To son Albertus, all that farm where I now live and the meadow that lies in the Flatlands; and he shall pay 150 pounds to each of my five daughters, etc, etc."

Roelof Terhune died in 1761.

GERRET or Garret, 2-4, son of Roelof and Morretje (Wyckhoff) Terhune, was born at Flatlands Aug. 30, 1709. He went to New Jersey and married Alice Voorhees, daughter of Stephen Coerte Voorhees, of New Brunswick, New Jersey, and they located in Somerset County, New Jersey, where he died Sept. 20, 1781.

(See Voorhees lineage).

1.5 STEPHEN TERHUNE, son of Garret and Alice (Voorhees) Terhune, was born in Somerset County, New Jersey, Nov. 27, 1735, and married, Sept. 5, 1755, Margrietje (Marget) Cornell, who was born the same day as himself.

"Previous to the year 1755, there is nothing to help the genealogist in the construction of this Terhune record but musty wills, deeds, and long-forgotten court records. But with Stephen and Marget Cornel Terhune it is different. Faint memories of them still linger in the minds of their descendants. It has been remembered of Marget that she was a large woman of a pronounced blonde type, with a ruddy face, fine blue eyes, plenty of freckles, and a lot of bright red hair. The type still appears in profusion among her descendants, even to the sixth generation. Stephen and Marget lived on a farm near Harlingen, New Jersey. * * *

In this favored region they lived content. Their farm more than supplied the needs of their growing family, and they took life easy. Of winter evenings they sat before their cheerful fire of logs and read their Dutch Bible by the light of tallow candles. They spoke both the English and Dutch tongues, but they attended the Dutch Reformed church and brought up their children in that faith." They had a large family, and their family Bible, which is still in existence at Blawenburg, New Jersey, records the following names and dates of birth of their ten children: (Terhune Notation)

- 1_6 Garret, born July 25, 1756.
- 2_6 WILLIAM, born Oct. 13, 1757.
- 3_6 Stephen, born Feb. 22, 1760.
- 4_6 Altie, born Aug. 29, 1762.
- 5_6 Margrietje, born Jan. 25, 1764.
- 6_6 Mary, born May 18, 1766.
- 7_6 Cornelius, born Nov. 30, 1768.
- 8_6 Eva, born May 12, 1771.
- 9_6 Jeanethe, born May 5, 1773.
- 10_6 Roelof, born July 3, 1777.

Two of these, Garret and William, married into the Van Nuys family and so are concerned with this sketch.

Garret Terhune married Catherine Van Nuys, eldest daughter of Isaac and Flora Quick Van Nuys, (see foregoing), and William Terhune married her cousin, Maria Van Nuyse 7_5, daughter of John and Marie Van Arsdalen Van Nuyse. John was a brother of Isaac 1_4.

William Terhune, altho scarcely more than a boy had enlisted in the service of his country, against the wishes of his mother. And not only she, but the object of his admiration, the daughter of the widow Van Nuyce, a neighbor, watched him proudly march away, and anxiously awaited his return after an honorable record in the War of the Revolution.

The first twelve years of William and Maria Terhune's married life were spent on a farm near Harlingen, New Jersey, where five of their nine children were born. The nine were: (Van Nuys notation)

1_6 Stephen Terhune, was born, April 15, 1782, in New Jersey, and while yet a child was brought to Mercer County, Kentucky. Mercer County's beautiful hills were soon dotted with farms, and before she was a quarter of a century old her children were faring forth, ranging the wilderness afar in search of yet other beautiful building sites. And Stephen Terhune, along with others, thus became a pioneer again, even before emerging from his teens. However, not land, but a woman, was the lure that led his eager feet so far, in his ardent, boyish years.

Among many other Mercer County families that left their first location in Kentucky, and formed a second colony in the "Low Dutch Tract", in Shelby and Henry Counties, were the related families of the Bantas, the Vories's and the Montforts. And it was for Mary (Polly) Montfort, daughter of Francis* and Charity (Banta) Montfort, that Stephen Terhune went to "The Low Dutch Tract", and it was she that he claimed in marriage in the year 1802. She was born in Conewago, York County, Penn., March 3, 1776. Her father, Francis Montfort, was born at Millstone, N. J., in 1746, and Charity Banta Montfort, was born in Hackensack, N. J., March 3, 1749. They came to Conewago, Pa., in 1768, and to Kentucky in 1784, where he died April 22, 1825, and she died Dec. 6, 1828.

Stephen Terhune and Polly Montfort, were the parents of JOHN, Stephen, William, and Patsy. Of none but the first born has a single trace been left. Stephen Terhune died Feb. 8, 1833, in Henry County, Kentucky.

1-7 John Terhune, son of Stephen and Polly, was born in Henry County, Kentucky, in 1803. He grew to manhood in Henry County, where in 1823 he married Susan Garret, a daughter of William Garret, deceased. Her mother Sarah Cully Garret, after the death of her first husband, had married John Vories, by whom she became the mother of Hervey Vories, and the grandmother of Caroline Vories Terhune. Thus John Terhune married the step-daughter of his cousin, John Vories. In the year 1829, John Terhune brought his wife and three small children to the wilds of Johnson County, Indiana. He had been well endowed by nature with the strength to seize and subdue the wilderness. "Like some viking of old, with his fierce blue eyes and flaxen hair, he towered six feet four, and weighed two hundred and forty pounds. He was a typical pioneer, and excelled in those feats of strength which in his day were the measure of a man. He loved to sing, and so powerful was his voice that its echoes rang far thro' the boundless woods. He never prepared his fuel a day ahead, but loved in winter, (or pretended he loved) to spring out of bed and stand bare-foot in the snow while he chopped off the logs of which he built his morning fire. His wife died in March, 1859, and he then went to Brownstown, Ind., where he married Mrs. Nancy Costello, Aug. 25, 1859. He died in 1873. He and his first wife were the parents of twelve

*NOTE—Francis Montfort traced his descent from Peter de Montfort (I) a French Huguenot refugee, living in Holland, and married to Sarah De Blanchan, in Amsterdam, Dec. 17, 1630. They came to New Amsterdam in 1631, where he was a planter, a magistrate, and a deacon in his church. He died Jan. 4, 1661 and left a son Peter Montfort (II), born in 1652 and married to Maria de Luyster. Their son Peter Montfort (III) was born in 1681, and emigrated to Somerset County, New Jersey. He was the father of John Montfort (IV) of Flatlands who was born Feb. 7, 1702, and was the father of Francis Montfort (V), the emigrant to Kentucky, above mentioned and the father of Polly Montfort (VI).

Children:

- 1-8 William Waller Terhune, born Nov. 19, 1824, in Henry County, Kentucky, died Dec. 18, 1854, in Johnson County, Ind. He married Sept 22, 1846, Mary Ellen Wright, who was born Aug. 29, 1826, and who died, Nov. 28, 1857.
- 2-8 James Hervev Terhune, second son of John and Susan Garrett Terhune, born in Henry County, Ky., Oct. 26, 1827, died at Chancellorsville, Va., May 3, 1863. He married, Sept. 22, 1858, in Johnson County, Ind., Mary Jane Dusing Holeman, who was born in Virginia, Nov. 1, 1827, and died at Morgantown, Ind., Aug. 12, 1867. They had two

Children:

- 1-9 Alpharetta, born July 15, 1859, who was married on May 15, 1879, to Thomas H. Wright, who died March 23, 1881. She married 2d, Dec. 1, 1900, Wm. E. Clayton, from whom she was divorced April 1, 1903. She married 3d, Jan. 25, 1908, William Davis Terhune, son of James and Eusebia (Nay) Terhune. William Davis Terhune is a brother of Thomas L. Terhune.

- 12-8 John Terhune, sixth son of John and Susan Garret Terhune, was born in Franklin, Ind., in 1849. He was formerly noted as a boxer. He now lives in Indianapolis.

The military record of this one family of six sons in the Civil War was notable. But a few months after the war broke out James Harvey Terhune, Asa B. Terhune, and Nathan D. F. Terhune, volunteered and were mustered into the service as privates in Company G, 27th Regiment of Volunteer Infantry, at Morgantown, Ind., Sept. 12, 1861. All were brave soldiers.

James Harvey Terhune was promoted to 1st Sergeant, and gave his life for his country on the battlefield of Chancellorsville, May 3, 1863.

Asa B. Terhune contracted measles and died in a regimental hospital at Frederick City, Md., in December, 1862.

Nathan D. F. Terhune fought at Gettysburg, where on July 3, 1863, he lost his right leg.

Of Stephen Rowe Terhune's service as a soldier, little is known. We only know that he belonged to a battery of field artillery and lost his life in a skirmish somewhere in the state of Missouri.

2-6 John Terhune, second son of William and Maria (Van Nuyse) Terhune, was born Aug. 19, 1783, and died March 28, 1860, in Mercer County, Kentucky. He married Anna Comingore, March 1, 1806.

3-6 William Terhune, third son, born Nov. 3, 1786, died Oct. 20, 1845, at Greenwood, Ind. He married first Rachel Lowe, Nov. 27, 1806 and second, Anna Salter, April 2, 1821. She was born March 8, 1799, and died August 23, 1851.

5-6 GARRET TERHUNE

born November 15, 1791. (See sketch).

6-6 Isaac Terhune, born March 17, 1796, in Mercer County, Kentucky; died March 13, 1869, at Vermillion, Illinois; married Elizabeth Shepherd, March 18, 1815.

7-6 Margaret Terhune, born July 13, 1797; died July 21, 1812.

8-6 James Terhune, born Jan. 14, 1801, died May 31, 1884, married Jan. 11, 1823, Parthenia Pancake, who was born Nov. 2, 1798, and died April 2, 1884. Both died in Brown County, Indiana.

9-6 Ruloff Terhune, born June 23, 1803, died June 13, 1872, married Aug. 26, 1824, Mary Vermillion, born Sept. 8, 1808, died July 1, 1864; married second, February 9, 1865, Margaret Brown, born March 7, 1806, died Sept. 18, 1867; married third, Lydia Comingore, May 28, 1868. All of Ruloff's family lived and died in Mercer County, Kentucky.

But to return to the parents of the foregoing:

In the early part of 1793, occurred a great migration from New Jersey to Kentucky; and William and Garret Terhune with many other families made their way thither. They went by wagon to Pittsburg, where they took flatboats and dropped down the Ohio to Limestone, (Maysville) Kentucky, whence the journey overland was made to Harrod's Station in Mercer County.

"At that time there was not a bridge nor a steamboat on the whole course of the Ohio river, but the change in a century has been inconceivably great. Three months were required to complete the journey from New Jersey to Harrod's Station. At night the caravan halted at some spring or stream of water and on the Sabbath they rested. Hunters helped to supply the company with food. When the cows were milked in the morning the milk was put into teapots, and by night the rough jolting of the wagons had produced butter ready, for use."

Soon after their arrival William Terhune bought a tract of about three hundred acres on Harrod's Run, and Garret secured about the same amount, three miles west of Harrod's Station. Here William died June 18, 1828, and his wife, Mary Van Nuys Terhune died Aug. 4, 1848.

5_6 GARRET TERHUNE

fifth child of William and Mary (Van Nuys) Terhune, was born at Harlingen, New Jersey, Nov. 15, 1791, and was brought by his parents to Kentucky when only eighteen months old. He married Nancy Davis, only daughter of Edward and Sarah Davis, Aug. 15, 1813. She was born in Tennessee, April 9, 1794, and died in Trafalgar, Johnson County, Indiana, Feb. 14, 1851. They had 12

Children:

- 1_7 Sarah, born Aug. 10, 1814, died April 21, 1896, married, Oct. 25, 1833, Fielding Utterbach, who was born Nov. 23, 1809, and died July 31, 1881. Both died in Mills County, Iowa.
- 2_7 Mary Ann Terhune, born Aug. 25, 1815, died Aug. 5, 1842, married Henry Utterbach, May 13, 1832. He was born Sept. 11, 1805, and died in Johnson County, Indiana, Nov. 21, 1886.
- 3_7 Harvey Terhune, born March 22, 1817, married Oct. 31, 1839, Susan Wilson. They went to Missouri, but no further trace of them.
- 4_7 William Terhune, born March 22, 1819, died Feb. 3, 1880, married Deborah Zook, who was born Mar. 1, 1822, and died April 10, 1895.
- 5_7 JAMES TERHUNE. (See sketch).
- 6_7 Martha Terhune, born July 3, 1822, married Sept. 26, 1839, William Robert Hunt, who was born Dec. 14, 1818, and died Aug. 20, 1886, at Trafalgar, Indiana. Martha Hunt died Jan. 9, 1908.
- 7_7 Margaret Terhune, born Aug. 7, 1824, married Mar. 16, 1843, Henderson Ragsdale, who was born Nov. 9, 1823, and who died March 29, 1913, at Trafalgar, Margaret Ragsdale died Aug. 17, 1911.
- 8_7 Lucinda Terhune, born March 8, 1826, died Feb. 22, 1901, married December 26, 1844, Harry Ragsdale, born May 13, 1825, died Aug. 9, 1904.
- 9_7 Ida Riker Terhune, born Oct. 5, 1829, died Feb. 9, 1894, married July 13, 1848, James A. Nay, born March 3, 1828, died March 4, 1902, in Boone County, Indiana.
- 10_7 Davis Terhune, born in Mercer County, Ky., Sept. 23, 1831, died Oct. 5, 1877, married first, on Jan. 27, 1854, Cynthia I. Riker of Boyle County, who died Oct. 2, 1854, at Trafalgar, Indiana.

He married second, on Oct. 19, 1858, Mary Jane Terhune, daughter of William and Judith Ann Bates Terhune, in Johnson County, Kentucky. She was born Sept. 16, 1833, in Boyle County, Kentucky. After her husband's death, she married again on Sept. 2, 1890, John Brown. She died March 8, 1908.

11-7 Minerva Jane Terhune, born January 10, 1834, died June 30, 1906, married on December 27, 1854, Joel H. Hoback, who was born July 25, 1835. He was Captain of Co. H, 57th Regiment of Indiana Volunteer Infantry.

12-7 Obadiah Terhune, born April 10, 1836, died July 26, 1837.

The three youngest of these children were born in Johnson County, Indiana, whither Garrett and Nancy (Davis) Terhune had gone, with his brother James in the fall of 1830. Here in the wilds of a new country they endured all the hardships incident to frontier life. The two families lived in open camps until a double cabin of logs could be built.

"The next spring the first and second plantings of corn failed", writes a son, "and the third, which came, was ruined by the frost. There was no grain for the stock, and many cattle died. The horses were so poor that they could not be worked at the plow more than two hours at a time, and time had to be allowed for the grazing, which was their only means of subsistence." But this condition of affairs was not peculiar to the time nor the place; most of the pioneers of Indiana, Illinois and Iowa, experienced at times the same adverse conditions. After the death of his wife, Garret Terhune on Aug. 3, 1851, married Mrs. Jane Forsythe, who died Feb. 2, 1856 and he married again, Sept. 4, 1857, Mrs. Nancy Pickerel. He died Jan. 24, 1875. He was a member of the Christian Protestant Church and in politics was a Democrat.

5-7 JAMES TERHUNE, fifth child of Garrett and Nancy (Davis) Terhune, was born in Mercer County Kentucky, Feb. 3, 1821, and at the age of nine was brought to the wilderness of Johnson County, Indiana. On March 17, 1842, he married Eusebia Neville Nay, who was the daughter of Asa B. and Lucinda (Whitesides) Nay, and was born in Oldham County, Kentucky, Oct. 11, 1825. Asa B. Nay was a son of Samuel and Nancy Nay of Culpepper County, Virginia. Samuel Nay was a soldier in the Revolutionary War. After his marriage, James Terhune bought a farm west of Trafalgar on which they resided until 1882, when they moved to Franklin. Altho' he had had meager schooling, and that in a log school house with greased paper windows and heated by a huge fireplace, this education stood him in good stead, and he became an energetic and progressive farmer, and a public-spirited citizen of the highest character. He and his wife were faithful members of the Primitive Baptist Church. He died Jan. 21, 1892, and she on Dec. 19th, following. They had seven

Children:

- 1-8 THOMAS LINVAL TERHUNE, born April 17, 1844. (See sketch).
- 2-8 Asa Garret Terhune, born Sept. 20, 1846, died March 17, 1898, married May 21, 1869, Nancy Williams, born July 11, 1851.
- 3-8 William Davis Terhune, born Aug. 11, 1849, married first. Sept. 16, 1873, Sarah Forsyth, born Dec. 22, 1851, died Sept. 24, 1902. He married second. on Jan 25, 1908, Mrs. Alpha T. Clayton, born July 15, 1859. Mr. Terhune is a man of prominence in his community and represented his County in the State Legislature in 1893.
- 4-8 Lucinda Margaret Terhune, born Nov. 18, 1852, married Oct. 23, 1872, Samuel Nelson Schuck, who was born Dec. 22, 1849, and died Feb. 22, 1896.
- 5-8 John Walter Terhune, born May 5, 1856, died Oct. 18, 1879.
- 6-8 Erminie Addie Terhune, born Jan. 5, 1861, married James R. Shank.
- 7-8 Dillard Webster Terhune, born Jan. 7, 1864, died November 7, 1865.

1-8 THOMAS LINVAL TERHUNE, eldest son of James and Eusebia (Nay) Terhune, was born April 17, 1844, in Johnson County, Ind., and after passing through the country schools he went to the Edinburg High School, and Franklin Academy to fit himself for the work of teaching, which he followed in that county with great success for over thirty years, an unusual record for those times.

He married, Dec. 7, 1865, Caroline Vories, born in Johnson County, Indiana, Aug. 30, 1844. She was a daughter of Hervey and Alzannah (Carter) Vories. Hervey Vories was a son of John and Sarah Vories and was born in Henry County, Kentucky, Jan. 28, 1821. He died Jan. 11, 1903. She had preceded him Jan. 17, 1898.

John and Hervey Vories were descendants of Steven Coerte Voorhees, the common ancestor of the Voorhees and Van Voorhees families in America, and who came to New Amsterdam in 1660 in the ship Bontekoe. (See Voorhees lineage).

Hervey and Alzannah (Carter) Vories were the parents of eight children: 1 John Rufus, 2 CAROLINE, 3 William Allen, 4 Emmeline, 5 James Montgomery, 6 Angeline, 7 Catherine and 8 Hervey Daniel.

After the death of his wife, July 29, 1896, Thomas Linval Terhune went to Whiteland to reside, and he died there Feb. 14, 1903. They were the parents of two

Children:

1_9 Rufus Webster Terhune.

2_9 Violet Vories Terhune, born July 9, 1869.

Rufus Webster Terhune, M. D., is a successful practitioner of Whiteland, Indiana. He was born near Samaria, in Johnson County, Indiana, Oct. 21, 1866. After graduating from High School he taught for a time before entering the Kentucky School of Medicine, at Louisville, where he received his M. D. degree in 1891, and entered at once upon the practice of his profession at Whiteland, Indiana, where he still resides.

Dr. Terhune is a member of the County and State Medical Associations, and of the American Medical Association.

He is the author of "Historical Sketches of Medicine and Medical Men in the Early Days of Johnson County," and some other historical writings. He is an enthusiast in genealogical research, the results of which he has embodied under the title of "Albert Albertse Ter Huen and his Descendants," from which the foregoing sketch was compiled, and for which we are greatly indebted to him. In religious faith Dr. Terhune is affiliated with the Presbyterians. Politically he is a Democrat, and he is a member of the fraternal orders, Modern Woodman of America and the Knights of Pythias. He has been twice married; first to Mrs. Lena Enfield Doran, of Louisville, Kentucky on June 21, 1892. She was a daughter of Bryant R. and Catilena (Creal) Nall of Larue County, Kentucky. After her death, Oct. 15, 1898, Dr. Terhune, on Aug. 11, 1909, married Evabel Robinson of Minneapolis, only daughter of Henry and Cynthia Ellen (Burr) Robinson. She was born June 6, 1878, at Lemond, Minnesota. She is a graduate of the University of Minnesota, where she specialized in the languages. This training and some years of travel have eminently fitted her for the varied activities to which recent years have introduced her. She is a member of the Alexander Hamilton Chapter D. A. R.

Her paternal grandfather, William Robinson, was born near New Romney, Kent, England, and he came to Ontario, previous to 1838, when he married Ann Matthews. In the maternal line Evabel Terhune is descended from a long line of New England ancestry, traced to Benjamin Burr, who came from England, in the Winthrop Company, who landed at Salem, Massachusetts, June 22, 1630.

Dr. Terhune and wife are the parents of three Children:

- 1-10 Helen Irene, born Sept. 7, 1910.
- 2-10 Webster Lucian, born Jan. 7, 1912.
- 3-10 Stanley Robinson, born Sept. 11, 1915.

VORIES LINEAGE

Caroline Vories Terhune, mother of Dr. R. W. Terhune, was descended in the paternal line from (II) STEVEN COERTE or STEVEN KOERS, the common ancestor of the Voorhees and Van Voorhees families of America, who with his wife and daughter Merghein, emigrated in April 1660, in the ship Bontekoe (Spotted Cow).

In the old world Steven Coerte had no family name, but when he began life anew in the great new world, he adopted as his surname the name of the village or community in Holland from which he came. This happened to be a small neighborhood of nine houses and fifty people near Ruinen, Drenthe, Holland, known locally as "Hees" or "Hies".

The father of Steven Coerte was (I) COERTEALBERTS, who lived in front of "Hees" or before "Hees". The word "voor" signifies "before" so the two words were combined into the name "Voorhees". The prefix "Van" meaning "from", was often used and these three words, "Van Voor Hees", from before Hees, thus combined formed the full family name of the descendants of Steven Coerte in America.

Steven Coerte was born in 1600. On November 29th, 1660, he bought a farm of 31 morgens of land at Flatlands of Cornelius Dirckson Hoogland, for which he gave 3000 guilders. His first wife died, and he married second, in Flatlands, Willempie Roelofse Seuberg, who was born in 1619, and died in 1690. Steven Coerte died at Flatlands, February 16, 1684. His first wife, whom he married in Holland, and whose name has not been preserved, was the mother of his children.

His son (III) LUCAS STEVENSE (VAN VOORHEES), was born in Holland, in 1650; came to America with the family in 1660, and lived at Flatlands. He married first, Katherine Van Noorstrandt; second, Jan, 26th, 1689, Jannetje Mennis.

His son (IV) JAN LUCAS (VAN VOORHEES), of Flatlands was baptized Feb. 19, 1675, and married Rensie Wyckhoff, March 5th, 1704.

His son (V) ROELOF (VAN VOORHEES, shortened to Voorhees) was born August 9th, 1707. He married Deborah Cortelyou, and lived at Flatlands until his death in 1782.

His son (VI) PETER (PETRUS) VOORHEES, was born in 1730, and married Sophia de Bogart. Other data are lacking, but they left the old home at Flatlands, and lived in New Brunswick, New Jersey, where presumably the following children were born:

- 1 Jacobus (James), March 17, 1751.
- 2 Margaretta, April 1, 1753.
- 3 Neetje, June 26, 1756.
- 4 John, 5, Jannetje, 6 Christina.
- 7 (VII) FRANCIS, March 17, 1766.

The family removed to Conewago, York County, Pennsylvania, in 1768, where two more children were born, Helena, June 3rd, 1770 and Shram, Oct. 11, 1772.

PETER VORIES, died in Conewago, and in 1784, the widow Sophia and children, in company with the related family of John Banta, started on the long journey to Kentucky. John Banta died of smallpox while they were on the way, and later, when the land of promise was well nigh within their reach, and they were camping for the night, a terrific wind storm arose and Mrs. Banta was killed by a falling tree. When the remainder of the little band reached Harrod's Station they found most of the best land in the county already taken and they ultimately settled in Shelby County, Kentucky.

Her son (VII) FRANCIS VORIES, was united in marriage with Catherine Montfort, February 1st, 1788, in Mercer County, Kentucky.

Catherine Montfort, was born at Conewago, York Co., Penn., Sept. 22, 1772, and died Jan. 3, 1857. She had descended from Peter Montfort, who came from Holland to New Amsterdam in 1631, and who died Jan. 4, 1661.

After the marriage of (VII) FRANCIS VORIES and Catherine Montfort, they lived for two years near Danville, Kentucky. They then moved to Shelby County, Kentucky, where they lived on the farm of a relative for ten years. This farm had been bought of Squire Boone, a brother of Daniel Boone. May 19, 1800, Francis Vories bought 200 acres of land of the commissioners of Patrick Shields, on the waters of Mill Creek, in Henry County, Kentucky. Here (VII) FRANCIS VORIES lived and here he died Feb. 22, 1843. They were the parents of twelve children.

- 1 Sophia, born Feb. 3, 1789, in Perkins.
- 2 Peter H. Vories, born May 22, 1791, died Oct. 26, 1825. Married Mary N. Vories, July 8, 1813. She was born May 28, 1796 and died Oct. 17, 1885.
- 3 Charity, born June 22, 1793, married William Crawford.
- 4 Francis, born May 3, 1795, died April 24, 1882.
- 5 (VIII) JOHN, born May 3, 1797, died Oct. 14, 1880. Married Sarah Cully Garrett, 1819. She was born Feb. 3, 1782, died Dec. 19, 1866.
- 6 James, born June 22, 1799, died August 21, 1881, married Elizabeth Pyles.
- 7 Mary (Polly) born, April 3, 1801, married Elder T. L. Townsend.
- 8 Margaret (Peggy), born March 11, 1803, married Primrose Yarbrough.

9 Katherine, born Aug. 17, 1805, died 1891, married James Haydon.

10 Eliza, born May 7, 1808, died 1848, married J. W. Thomas.

11 Henry M., born May 25, 1810, died 1876.

12 Preston, born Feb. 24, 1813.

Now (VIII) JOHN VORIES, of the above named family, after his marriage to Mrs. Sarah Cully Garrett, was the father of 1. Hervey Vories, and 2 Catherine Vories.

(IX) HERVEY VORIES, only son of John and Sarah Cully Garrett Vories, was born near Campbellsburg, Henry County, Kentucky, Jan. 28th, 1821. He was brought to Johnson County, Ind., in the autumn of 1830. He was married February 17, 1842, to Alazannah Carter. She was a daughter of John and Margaret (McClure) Carter and was born near Christiansburg, Montgomery County, Virginia, April 1st, 1815, and came to Johnson County, Indiana, with an uncle, John Dusing and family, in the year 1838.

After a long life of usefulness and devotion to her family, Mrs. Vories passed away Jan 17, 1898, and Mr. Vories followed her to their long home, Jan. 11, 1903.

CHAPTER V

ISAAC VAN NUYS

ISAAC VAN NUYS (2_4) son of Isaac (4_3) son of Jacobus (7-2) son of Aucke Jans, was born Mar. 18, 1739, and died in 1804. He married Vrouchie or Flora Quick, probably a daughter of Teunis Quick, one of the early Dutch families on the Raritan. They were members of the Dutch Reformed Church in Millstone, New Jersey, and of the same Church in Kentucky, to which state they emigrated in 1791, as the following letter, of which he was one of the signers, will show.

As it may be of interest to his many descendants, I give it. They had been in Kentucky only about four years, and were anxious about a church organization.

They had settled near where Harrodsburg now is, in Mercer County.

TO THE CLASSIS OF NEW BRUNSWICK.

Believers in the Lord, Grace, Peace and Mercy.

Having at this time made a call for a minister of our Low Dutch Reformed Church, by the consent of our Low Dutch Society at Salt River, Mercer County, in the state of Kentucky, we hope it may have its desired effect. Therefore we do in the name of our Lord desire of you, our Reverend Classis, to aid and assist us with all possible speed.

It is further the sincere wish and prayer of us that in case you could not send us a minister agreeable to our wish—that is one that can preach in both English and Dutch, that we then have a speedy supply, either in the Dutch or English language, to establish a consistory, to preach, to baptize, etc., as there are at present upwards of forty children to be baptized. And further, as we are like to be a scatterede people, we hope a speedy remedy may take place, as our desires are great, our case is distressing, our church affairs and religion in many respects lamentable.

Though we have through the blessing of God so far united, and as it is the desire of our society to send us a minister who can preach both languages, we hope we shall be blessed with such a man, and if not to be expected in a short time, then we pray for a supply as above mentioned, and we, the subscribers, shall reward him well for his cost and trouble; and once more we crave a speedy remedy, as we have reason to fear that we will soon be scattered—which we hope God will forbid.

We shall add no more, as we hope that God will grant us His blessing, that our Rev. Classis may aid and assist us as soon as possible, that our society may be established and religion flourish in this and all other places, is the sincere wish and prayer of us, the subscribers, chosen as the voice of the people.

Given from under our hands this 13th of August, in the year of our Lord, 1795.

In November another letter was sent to Rev. John Livingston, stating their condition more fully, and setting forth that members of another denomination had been treated with more consideration of their needs by their church authorities, and that the members of the Dutch Reformed church, whose numbers were greatly superior, were becoming a reproach on account of their staunch adherence to a church that paid no heed to their importunities for a pastor at "The Head of Salt River, in Mercer County, Kentucky."

This letter was signed among others by both the father, Isaac Van Nuys, and father-in-law, Lawrence De Mott, of Peter Van Nuys, Sr. our ancestor who afterward removed to Hendricks County, Indiana, about 1830.

Collins History of Kentucky tells us that the Synod of the Dutch Reformed Church in 1796 sent a missionary, Rev. Peter Labagh, to the Salt River country. He made the trip on horseback from New Jersey to Harrodsburg, about seven hundred miles, and returned in the same way after spending several months in Kentucky. While there he organized the Dutch settlers into a church and in 1800 they were able to build a church, the historic "Old Mad Meeting House." A literal copy of the title deed to the land on which it was built is given in the history of this "meeting-house" read by A. H. Scomp, L. L. D. (a descendant of one branch of the Van Nuys family) on the occasion of the Centennial Celebration of its erection.

A curious sounding document.

THE TITLE DEED

begins: "This Indenture, made this 22 day of December, Anno Domini, one thousand eight hundred, between David Adams and Elizabeth, his wife, of the County of Mercer and the Commonwealth of Kentucky, of the one part, and John Van Bryck, Isaac Vannice and Peter Canine, agents and overseers (and their successors) of the Reformed Church on the Dry Fork of Salt River in Mercer county of the other part; Witnesseth, that the said David Adams and Elizabeth, his wife, for and in consideration of the sum of four pounds, ten shillings, Virginia currency, in hand, well and truly paid by the said John Van Bryck, Isaac Vannice, and Peter Canine, the receipt whereof he, the said David Adams doth hereby acknowledge (and also doth hereby acquit, discharge and exonerate the said John Van Bryck, Isaac Vannice and Peter Canine and their successors of the said Reformed Church forever) hath granted, bargained, sold, aliened, and confirmed, and by these presents doth bargain, sell, alien, and confirm to the said John Van Bryck, Isaac Vannice and Peter Canine as agents and overseers, and their successors of said Reformed Church forever all that Messuage survey and parcel of land situate, lying and being in the county of Mercer, and Commonwealth of Kentucky on the Dry Fork of Salt River, beginning at two elms on the brink of the Dry Fork thence down the same North 29 degrees West Twenty poles to two Water Beeches, two Buckeyes and a Hickory on the bank of said Fork, thence South and West Twenty five poles to a stake between an Ash and Hackberry, thence South and East Twenty poles to another stake between an Elm and Hackberry, thence 11 degrees East Twenty four poles to the beginning. Containing three acres of land together with appurtenances, to have and to hold all and singular the premises, etc., etc., etc.

This was one of the earliest churches built in Kentucky. It was called the "mud" house as its walls were of sturdy uprights interlaced with sticks and mortar. Thus we see that our progenitors have been a race of pioneers; Aucke Janse Van Nuys, as we have seen, having been master carpenter in the erection of the first church on Long Island. Isaac Van Nuys of the third generation having helped in establishing the Dutch Reformed Church in Millstone, New Jersey, and now Isaac of the fourth generation this Church in Kentucky.

Then Peter C. Vannice of the sixth helped found one in Indiana and some of his children, Samuel and Joanna one of the earliest in Lucas County, Iowa.

But to return to the "Old Mud Meeting house" there is now in possession of S. N. Vannice at Russell, Ia., one of the subscription papers used in soliciting the wherewithal (we cannot say funds) with which to launch this church enterprise.

I give it, that we of later generations, who know no measure of value except "the almighty dollar" may realize the scarcity of money in those pioneer times, the hardships resulting, and the resourcefulness of our fathers in the face of such disadvantages. Doubtless they erected the building with their own hands, the subscriptions being made to pay for material.

CHURCH SUBSCRIPTION 1800

We, the subscribers, promise to pay to the managers of the New Dutch Meeting-house on the Dry Fork of Salt River the following sumse in trade viz. such as schall be put apposite our respective names, on or before December 31, One thousand and 8 hundred. the said trade to be delivered at Peter Canines on Salt River.

etc., etc.

These things give us glimpses of life (entirely unfamiliar to us) on the frontier in the early days when there were few roads, no markets, no railroads, nor telegraph or telephone lines and few newspapers or periodicals—fewer books. But it was a life in which the graces of hospitality and neighborliness came into full bloom, and the virtues of industry and initiative and self-reliance were continually fostered and reached fruition.

According to Collins, Harrodsburg is the oldest town in Kentucky, and in 1800 it had only 124 people; so this church, altho' one of the oldest in the state, was not on the very farthest frontier of Kentucky.

Isaac Van Nuys of the fourth generation died in Mercer County, Kentucky, in 1804. Several sale notes, yellowed and worn by age, but still legible, are held by his descendants, and are of date Oct. 4, 1804. The administrators of his estate were Isaac Van Nuys, Peter Van Nuys (sons) and Cornelius Van Arsdale. The administration was not completed and settlement made until Sept. 17, 1806.

Flora Quick Van Nuys survived her husband many years, dying in Mercer County, about April 1, 1829, as proved by the following receipt held by Charles C. Van Nuys of Franklin and Winona Lake, Indiana, grandson of Teunis.

"Received of Teunis Van Nuys eight dollars for making a coffin for Mrs. Van Nuys, this 14th day of April, 1829. N. G. Fitzgerald."

As the holder remarks, "This amount would scarcely pay for the nails in a casket now days," and it illustrates the increase in values that accompanies a more complex society.

Samuel Noel Van Nice has the original of an agreement signed by the heirs of Isaac Van Nuys, who lived in Mercer County, providing for the comfortable support of their widowed mother, but they were remunerated therefor, as shown by receipts for board, signed for different years by these heirs. Charles C. Van Nuys has another agreement, dated May 15, 1829, which begins,

"ARTICLE of AGREEMENT entered into this day between the heirs of Isaac Van Nuys, deceased. According to appointment they met at the house of Teunis Van Nuys in Shelby County, Kentucky, towit: Peter Van Nuys, John Van Nuys, James Van Nuys, Henry Van der Veer, married to Lana Van Nuys, Richard Canine, married to Charity Van Nuys, William Terhune, son of Caty Terhune, daughter of Isaac Van Nuys, deceased, Henry Vanderveer and William Terhune acting for Abraham Van Nuys, Peter Van Nuys acting for Polly Van Nuys, daughter of Isaac Van Nuys, deceased, Teunis Van Nuys and James Van Nuys acting for Isaac Van Nuys, all heirs of the said Isaac Van Nuys, deceased. The undersigned heirs have this day met in order to settle the estate of their mother Flora Van Nuys, deceased." * * * Terms of settlement follow, merely agreement to divide the estate equally. Signed by Peter Van Nice, Henry Van der Veer, James Van Nuys, William Terhune, Tunis Van Nuys, John Van Nice, Richard Canine, Abraham Van Nice, Isaac Van Nice.

15th day of May, 1829.

This last signature is of a later date.

From these agreements we learn that Isaac Van Nuys and Flora Quick had ten children who married and left descendants: Catherine, who married Garret Terhune, Mary, who married her cousin, Cornelius Van Nuys, Isaac, Peter, Magdalen, who married Henry Van der Veer, John, Teunis, James, Abraham, and Charity, who married Richard Canine. None of the Van der Veer line have been located, but most of the descendants of the other nine appear in the following records, which have been grouped according to families instead of by generations.

For Revolutionary War records, see Terhune, Canine, Demaree, and other ancestors in different families.

Inquiry has been made by several correspondents about the Van Nuys ancestors in the Revolution. There are names of several Van Nuyses, Quicks, De Mottes, Demarees and others in the army of rosters of New Jersey and Pennsylvania, and one Jacobus Van Nuys from New Jersey, but as the only Jacobus in our direct line was of an earlier generation, and no other name in our line occurs, we probably had no Van Nuys ancestors in that war. But there may have been De Motts or Quicks, as we do not know certainly, the names of the parents of our maternal ancestors of those names earlier than Lawrence

(See Page 130)

De Mott.. There was a Samuel Demaree in the army from York County, Pennsylvania; and almost all the Canines mentioned herein are descendants of the Peter Canine who was a sergeant in the Revolutionary Army—all not descended from Andrew.

Millstone was in the British line of march, and considerable damage seems to have been done by the British troops to live stock, fences, and buildings, on their way back to New York.

In a list of claims for damages, Isaac Van Nuys was awarded 40£ sterling, and Abraham Quick, son of Teunis Quick, was awarded 383£.

Howe's army was on the south side of the Raritan at Middlebush and Millstone, and Washington's was on the north side along the hills there, and the British attempted to destroy all property between Middlebush and New Brunswick.

"On Oct. 28, 1911, a Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution unveiled a tablet and marker at Millstone on land owned by Jacob Van Doren, a great-grandson of John Van Doren. The marker is of concrete about three feet high, bearing this inscription:

VAN NUYS FAMILY INCIDENT

The following Van Nuys family incident taken from one of the Somerset County, New Jersey, Historical Quarterlies, may be of interest to some branches of the family.

"Four or five brothers of the Van Nuys family came to New Jersey about 1727. One settled at New Brunswick, where his descendants now are. An Isaac came to Hillsborough (Millstone) where Abram Veris now lives, and Jacobus lived where Joseph Davis now lives. A party of British came to his house one night, called him out and shot him. The British officer then in command at Millstone, on complaint being made, caused the body to be taken to Millstone, and marched his men around it, compelling each one to touch it, under the superstition that when the murderer touched the body the blood would gush out. It is needless to say that the perpetrator was not discovered".

CHAPTER VI

CATHERINE VAN NUYS TERHUNE

Catherine 5, Isaac 4, Isaac 3, Jacobus 2, Aucke 1.

(See Terhune genealogy.)

1—5 CATHERINE VAN NUYS, daughter of Isaac and Flora Quick Van Nuys, was born about 1761 at Millstone, New Jersey, and married there Sept. 3, 1778, Garret Terhune, born July 25, 1756, oldest son of Stephen and Margot (Cornell) Terhune. They lived near Harlingen, New Jersey until 1793, the year after Kentucky was admitted into the Union, when they, with a large company of others from New Jersey, emigrated to Harrod's Station, near Salt River, Mercer County, Kentucky. Here he bought about three hundred acres of land, which they developed into a comfortable home, and here they spent the remainder of their lives. "He probably went to the relief of his invaded and ravaged country, as did his brother William, but we have no positive proof of the fact, altho a musket and bayonet of Revolutionary pattern was left to his descendants."

He was drowned in Salt River Feb. 8, 1821. The sale of his property was held Feb. 26, 1821. He was a slave holder in those early days, as shown by the following record in the settlement of the estate, which has been preserved, and which begins:

An inventory of the appraisement of the personal property and the slaves of Garret Terhune, deceased, late of Mercer County, Kentucky:

One brown horse -----	77.00
One bay mare -----	60.00
Scythe and Cradle -----	2.00
etc., etc.,
All reaching a total of -----	$2755.00

It is interesting to note that his daughters' names do not appear in the list of legatees, but the names of their husbands instead, as Peter DeMotte, legatee, Henry Comingore, legatee.

Catherine Van Nuys Terhune lived until 1833.

"In the old Peter Terhune Family burying ground three miles west of Harrodsburg, Kentucky. there is a rough sandstone slab, weather-beaten and moss-grown on which may be deciphered the roughly carved letters, G. T.; and this is all that remains to mark the last resting place of Garret Terhune, Revolutionary soldier and pioneer of Mercer County, Kentucky."—R. W. T.

Garret Terhune had a brother-in-law named Henry Vanderveer, husband of Magdalen Van Nuys.

CHAPTER VII

MARY VAN NUYS

Mary 5, Isaac 4, Isaac 3, Jacobus 2, Aucke 1. DESCENDANTS of Isaac and Flora or Vrouchie (Quick) Van Nuys, in line of their daughter Mary.

2-5 MARY VAN NUYS, was born in 1763, near Millstone, Somerset County, N. J., and was married April 10, 1781,* in that county, to Cornelius Van Nuyce (as he spelled the name), her cousin, who also was born in Somerset County in 1755, and was a son of John and Marie (Van Arsdalen) Van Nuys. His sister Maria married William Terhune, a brother of Garret Terhune, and they also came to Kentucky.

Cornelius went to Conewago, Pennsylvania, with the New Jersey colony which settled that place. It was in York County (now Adams) near Gettysburg. But he went to Mercer County, Ky., sometime between 1790 and 1801, in which latter year there is record of land deeded to him in Mercer County. He died in Kentucky in 1820. Mary Van Nuyce died in 1845. Six of their children grew to maturity.

1-6 FLORA VAN NUYCE

whose baptismal record in the Dutch Church at Conewago reads: "Vroutie, child of Cornelius and Mary Van Nuyce, Dec. 6, 1789." She married Henry De Schamp (Scomp) in 1814 in Mercer County, Ky.

In an exhaustive and intensely interesting historical sketch of "The Old Mud Meeting House", which Dr. Scomp read at the celebration of the centennial anniversary of its erection in 1800, he gives many facts and incidents which illustrate the character and strength and devotion of our ancestry, and of the Dutch immigrants in general. CHAPTER VIII

ISAAC VAN NUYS

Isaac 5, Isaac 4, Isaac 3, Jacobus 2, Aucke 1.

Descendants of Isaac and Flora (Quick) Van Nuys in line of their son Isaac.

3-5 ISAAC VAN NUYS, was born May 3, 1765, near Millstone, Somerset Co., N. J. On May 22, 1793, in Mercer Co., Ky., whither each has gone, he married Leah Banta, born Sept. 12, 1774, in Penn., daughter of Hendrick and Maria (Stryker) Banta. They went to Switzerland County, Indiana, in 1816, and he died there, Dec. 28, 1845, it is supposed, altho his grave is in the burying ground of the Old Dutch Meeting house in Mercer County, Ky. Leah Banta Van Nuys died June 11, 1857. He was a farmer. They had a remarkable family of fourteen children, all of whom grew to maturity, and with one exception, left descendants. Nearly all of this numerous family were of the Presbyterian faith.

Seven of the fourteen removed to Iowa long before the Civil War, Henry locating in Benton County, near Vinton, and the others in Des Moines County, north of Burlington.

The following is taken from "A History of Yellow Springs and Huron Townships in Des Moines County."

"In 1842 and earlier there came five brothers to this region and made their home here. They were Abraham, Cornelius, Albert, Thomas and William Van Nice. They settled close together and near their sister, Mrs. Mary Bandy, who had settled here in 1838, but the homes of two, Abraham and Thomas were just over the line in Benton Township. Thomas died soon after he came, leaving two sons, Henry and Samuel. Abraham, altho living in Benton Twp., contributed his share to the prosperity of our townships."

In reading this history we find that the Van Nices and Bandys were very prominent among the early settlers of Des Moines County, John and Mrs. Bandy and daughter Rachel, and Cornelius and Susan Dickerson Van Nice were five of the eleven charter members of the New School Presbyterian Church, organized at Kossuth, Sept. 12, NOTE—The first figure indicates order in the family; the second indicates the number of the generation in America.

1840, and all these six families helped to found the Yellow Springs College, so important an institution in that region before the war.

His wife died near Lynchburg, Va., and Elizabeth Henry took charge of the family. Her father made his home with her until he died at the age of 99 years. She died Feb. 21, 1874. John Van Nuys expressed the wish that his family Bible should pass to the oldest surviving member of the family, on the death of the holder, a rule, the observance of which will doubtless help sustain interest, both in the family record and in the Divine Word.

John Pogue Williamson, D. D., born October 27, 1835, at Lac qui Parle, Minnesota, where his father Dr. Thomas S. Williamson was missionary to the Sioux Indians, completed his education and graduated from Lane Seminary in 1861, and began his life work as a missionary to the Sioux Indians, among whom his father was working. He organized his first church of twelve members at Red Wood Agency, Minn. Later in 1862-3 he labored among the Indians who had engaged in the outbreak near New Ulm, Mankato and Ft. Snelling, Minn. His work among the prisoners kept by the state near Fort Snelling for a number of years, was of such a nature of unselfish devotion that it made him the lasting friend of the Sioux. When this band of hated Sioux was finally sent to Crow Creek, Missouri, he went with them and finally was instrumental in getting them located at Niobrara (?) Neb. In 1864 he took up work at Yankton Agency, thirty miles farther up the Missouri river at Greenwood, South Dakota, where he has spent his life, working with untiring energy and great success. Since 1872 he has been Superintendent of Mission work for the Sioux Indians, but in 1915 the work became too great to be longer done by him and he retired from active service, tho not entirely giving up his work. The field of his work was large, embracing the Dakotas, Montana and Nebraska, and Dr. Williamson never spared himself—visiting the churches, overseeing church building, and often doing much of the actual labor himself. He is known and loved by the Sioux as their "Friend John", and altho his active service for them is done, his work will follow and speak for him to coming generations.

Not only among the Sioux is he honored, but there is not a minister in the Synod of South Dakota more esteemed and loved than is Dr. John P. Williamson. At the meeting of Synod following the completion of fifty years of service as a missionary his brother ministers gave expression to their love and esteem by presenting him a beautiful large sterling silver Loving Cup. He has been chosen commissioner to General Assembly many times, and his name has always stood upon the list of important committees in his church, where his services have been cheerfully and uncomplainingly given. He was a member of the State Legislature in 1897-8.

CHAPTER IX

PETER VAN NICE.

Peter 5, Isaac 4, Isaac 3, Jacobus 2, Aucke 1.

DESCENDANTS of Isaac Van Nuys and Flora Quick, in line of their son Peter.

4_5 PETER VAN NICE was born November 7, 1766, near Millstone, Somerset County, New Jersey, and went to Mercer County, Kentucky, when a young man, probably at the time his parents went, in 1791. He was married March 27, 1792, to Deborah De Motte, daughter of Louwrens (Lawrence) and Dorothy (Van der Beek) De Motte, who was born in Somerset County, New Jersey, also. The records of the Neshanic Dutch Reformed Church give the date of her baptism as November 6, 1763. She was born October 8. There is record in the Readington and Neshanic Churches in Somerset County of the baptism of six other children of Louwrens and Dortie Van der Beek De Motte, all seven as follows: Diirck in 1753; Laurens in 1755; Martha, 1757; Peter, 1759; Deborah, November 6, 1763; Abraham, April 19, 1766; Johannes, July 16, 1769.

The Somerset County, New Jersey, HISTORICAL QUARTERLY gives the following concerning the origin of the De Motte family in America:

"Michel De Motte, of French Huguenot descent, came to America about or before 1665, when he appears in the records of Esopus (now Kingston), New York. His wife was Annetie Westbrook, daughter of Anthony Janse Westbrook, of Albany. His sons were Anthony, Johannes, and Dirck (Richard). Dirck was baptized September 21, 1684, and died July 14, 1753. He married Styntie — and settled in the neighborhood of Neshanic, New Jersey. The Somerset County De Mottes are descended from this Dirck".

When, about 1680, David Des Marest (Demaree) a French Huguenot from Holland, made a purchase of a few thousand acres of land, with the purpose of founding a colony for French refugees, at Hackensack, New Jersey, the De Mottes were among those who joined the Colony, with the idea of preserving the purity of the French language, and maintaining a church composed of French only. However, they were surrounded by Dutch colonists, and the Dutch tongue finally prevailed.

There are still living some of her grand children, who have heard Deborah Van Nice tell how she, a girl in her early teens, with other members of the family spent nights by turns in their barn, near Millstone, Somerset County, trying to prevent the depredations of the British troops who were stationed near their home. The roster of Revolutionary soldiers from Somerset County, contains names of Jacob, Peter, and Lawrence De Motte, and this Lawrence may have been Deborah Van Nuys's father, but the supposition has not been confirmed. The names of Garret, Jacob, Peter and Tunis Quick also occur in the list from Somerset County, and Henry Quick from Hunterdon County, New Jersey. There was a Lawrence De Motte in Mercer County, Kentucky, at a very early day, so Peter and Deborah were probably married there. They remained there as long as his mother lived, but in 1833 went with their son Lawrence to Hendricks County, Indiana, where their son Peter had located in 1831, and in partnership with Lawrence they bought government land adjoining Peter's, and lived there until the father's death, May 11, 1844. Deborah Van Nice died June 4, 1855, in her ninety second year. She was a remarkably tall woman, and, he also being tall, they made a couple of striking appearance. They had nine children, three of whom died in infancy. Other was born in Mercer County, Kentucky, on January 8, 1793, and was married there on October 9, 1809, to Cornelius Canine, who was born September 8, 1787. They lived in Shelby County, Kentucky, until about 1830, when they went to Montgomery County, Indiana, and bought a large farm two miles east of Crawfordsville, on which they spent the remainder of their lives and reared a large family. Dorothea Van Nice Canine died May 18, 1865, and Cornelius on May 17, 1866.

Children:

1-6 DOROTHEA VAN NICE

Cornelius Canine was a son of Peter Canine of Shelby County, Kentucky, who was born November 16, 1752 and died February 2, 1841. Nothing definite concerning the ancestry of this Peter can be given here, altho a member of the family states that there is extant a record which in connection with the Burgess family record traces the Canine branch back four hundred years, through Holland to Finland, and to a boat builder there by the name of Carnine. This record could not be located. Peter Canine had one brother, five sons and four daughters, according to a record made by E. N. Canine, Superintendent of East Chicago Schools, (a descendant of Ralph Canine, son of Peter) who furnished much of the earlier data on which these records of Cornelius and Richard Canine's families are based. The brother of Peter was probably Andrew Carnine. As in other instances the name is variously spelled, Canine, Carnine and Cannine. The earlier spelling seems to have been Carnine.

There seems little doubt that Peter (father of Cornelius and Richard, who married Van Nices) is the same Peter who in the 1780's was living in the Conewago Settlement in York (now Adams) County, Pennsylvania, whose wife's name, as given in the baptismal record of some of his children, was Christina Sebrant. According to this record Cornelius was baptized at Conewago, October 14, 1787. Peter Canine was three times married, his last wife being Hanna Sebrén, the name mentioned in his will, evidently a sister of Christina, as she is pleasantly remembered by Mrs. Sarah E. Markwell as "Aunt Hanna" of her early childhood, altho "Hanna" was the third wife of her great grandfather. Hanna Sebering (Sebrant or Sebern?) survived her husband several years. Peter Canine enlisted in the Revolutionary Army from Somerset County, New Jersey, in July, 1776, and served at various times in the four years following, with rank of Orderly Sergeant and Quartermaster, under Captain Ver Bryck and Colonel Quick. He must have gone to Conewago immediately after his discharge, as his son, Dirck (Richard) was baptized there in 1779. He probably went to Kentucky when the Dutch colony at Conewago dispersed, between 1790 and 1793. Collins' History of Kentucky gives a list of the Revolutionary soldiers still living in that state in 1840, and Peter Canine's name is among those from Shelby County. The judge of the Shelby County Court, in noting record of probate of his will, which was in February, 1841, states that he was evidently a man "of much property and many descendants", although the names of his children are not mentioned in the will. Their names were Richard, Cornelius, Ralph, Letitia Alice (Van Nice), Peter, John, Catherine (Smock) and Ann (Terhune).

Children. of Cornelius and Dorothea (Van Heis) Canine: (All the Canine family spelled her name Van Heis.)

- 1-7 PETER VAN NICE CANINE, oldest son of Cornelius and Dorothea (Van Nice) Canine, was born in Shelby County, Kentucky, September 10, 1810. He lived there twenty one years then moved to Montgomery County, Indiana, where on February 14, 1833, he married Charity Ann Smith*, born March 6, 1815; a native of Ross County, Ohio. They lived on a farm eight miles east of Crawfordsville, until 1852, when they moved to Mahaska County, Iowa, settling on a farm of 180 acres on the Keokuk and Des Moines State Road, near Pella. The west line of their farm was the line between Marion and Mahaska counties. They drove through from Indiana with two wagons and one carriage, and brought eight cows with them. Their daughter Margaret, second child, drove the carriage. The farm had a small house on it—a one-room frame with shed kitchen. They had eight children at that time, born in Indiana, and on November 2, 1852, moved in with the family who were living there. They had four children, and did not get out for four weeks after the Canines moved in. A big snow fell November 6, and lay on all winter. Peter Van Nice Canine died on this farm October 7, 1878. Charity Ann died November 24, 1889.

*Peter Canine never let business interfere with fishing or hunting, and yet he was a success in a business way.

*NOTE:—Charity Ann Smith was a daughter of Ephraim and Ann Charity Smith. He was born in New Jersey about 1775, and moved to Ohio. Thence, in the prime of life he went to Montgomery County, Indiana, and bought land one mile east of Crawfordsville. When they were on the way out to it he died, near Indianapolis. His wife with fourteen children completed their journey and built a rail pen and put their household goods into it. She was a coat maker, spun wool and made coats for the neighbors and her family. Neighbors came in and built a log house for her family, she having previously arranged to make a coat for each one of them for their help. She rode on horseback fifty miles the first winter to Indianapolis to get meal for her family.

He left considerable property for his family, enjoyed life while he lived, never wore very fine clothes, and used his Dutch pipe regularly. If there was a bee tree in the timber he could find it. He would take some honey to the timber and watch for a bee to get some of it and then fly in a 'bee-line' to the bee tree, thus giving him the right course to follow to find the tree. He often went fishing on horseback, and John K. Voorhees, his oldest grandson, would sometimes have the pleasure of riding behind him on his fishing trips. He frequently fished with a dip-net just below the dams at Warren's Mill or Merice's Mill, both on Skunk River. He would carry the head-block and net tied to the horn of his saddle, also a small ax or hatchet, and when he reached the river he would cut four hickory spreaders for the net, a forked post and a pole twenty or thirty feet long, when he was ready for business.

"Everybody knew him for miles around as 'Uncle Peter'. None ever stopped at his house for a meal or a place to sleep that they did not get it."

They had ten children:

- 1-8 MARY JANE CANINE, born November 22, 1834 near Crawfordsville, Indiana, married Aaron Wood, who was an Old School Baptist minister. She died about 1870.
- 2-8 MARGARET CANINE, born August 28, 1836, was married near Pella, Iowa, March 16, 1854 to John Voorhees*, who was born October 2, 1829, in Warren County, Ohio, and early in 1854 moved to Mahaska County, Iowa, where he bought the farm on which he lived until his death, November 26, 1896. His widow afterward married Benj. Gardner, who died, and she now lives with her son at Pella, Iowa, and is almost blind.

*NOTE:—John Voorhees was a son of the John Voorhees who was born at Harlingen, New Jersey, January 3, 1798, and married Mary Rynearson, February 16, 1820. They trace their lineage to Stephen Coerte Van Voorhees, who came to America in the ship Bontekoe in 1660. (See Vories lineage in the Terhune family for origin of the name, which is variously spelled by the descendants, Van Vooris, Voris, Vories, Voorhees, Voorhies). The lineage of this John is as follows, as taken from the complete genealogy of the

They had no children but brought up two whom they adopted.

She was a daughter of Zechariah and Agatha (Dicken) Smith, and was one of ten children. Zechariah Smith died in Hendricks County, Indiana, in 1844, but Agatha, his widow, lived until 1874, and passed away at the age of ninety four years, having kept house for her bachelor son, Simeon, up to the week of her death—a woman of remarkable vitality and intellectual vigor.

For two or three years after his marriage, Peter C. Van Nice was overseer of slaves on the farm of H. Cowan in Lincoln County, Kentucky, not far from Danville, but this work was not at all to his liking, and in the spring of 1831, the year after the completion of the Cumberland National Road through Hendricks County, he went to Indiana and entered one hundred and sixty acres of government land in Marion township, in that county. In the fall of 1831, with a five-horse team, he and family, with his wife's people, moved out to it, and his father in law located just east of his land. Except for one year spent in Danville, Indiana, Peter and Sarah A. Van Nice lived continuously on the farm which he then entered, and which he afterward increased to 240 acres. They encountered years of privation and hard work in the rearing of their large family, but in those days each child contributed his share of the work as well as of the burden, genuine friendships and pleasures thrived, and the prime of life brought the comfort and content of abundance and ease.

Their first home in this new region, a cabin in the woods, did not need any windows for light or ventilation, according to their own testimony. "He succeeded during the first winter in felling the trees from an acre of ground, and when he was called from home to help his neighbors in their 'log-rollings', his wife kept up the fires in the log heaps. Their first corn crop was bitten by frost in the fall, which damaged the grain for bread purposes to such an extent that, bake as best they could, the center of Sir Johnny Cake would remain raw."

Hendricks County saw its first settler in 1820, and had not been organized until 1824, and New Winchester not until 1832, the year after Peter Van Nice went there, so neighbors were few and far between. Altho provision had been made for the removal of the Indians farther west to the reservations, not all of them had then gone.

The following description of an ordinary winter's evening among these very early settlers, taken from a history of Hendricks County, gives a picture difficult to be comprehended by the children among their descendants of today:

"In the winter evenings after it was too dark to work in the clearing, in the single room of the cabin—which answered very well for kitchen, diningroom, bedroom and parlor—sat the family, before a huge blazing fire of hickory wood, which, keeping up a continuous fusillade, scattered live coals all over the room, with no danger to carpet, however. Near one jamb of the fireplace could be seen the large three-legged oven with a pile of live coals under it, and in it a pone of corn bread baking for next day's dinner. Before the fire stood the Johnny-cake board, leaning against the sad-iron, and on it was baking the delicious Johnny for the coming supper. In one of the jambs was fastened the pot-rack, and upon its trammel hung a pot of pounded hominy boiling for future use.

The daughters were preparing the frugal supper, the mother spinning flax on the little wheel, the father making or mending moccasins, the sons making hickory brooms or pounding hominy in a mortar burned into the end of a hickory log, with an iron wedge fastened in the end of a stick for a pestle."

Soon after Peter Van Nice had settled in Hendricks County, a money panic struck the country, and times were hard, sure enough. The postage on a letter at that time was 25 cents, and it had to be paid by the receiver of the coveted missive from friends afar. His oldest daughter, Mrs. Louisiana Hadley, has a letter written in the spring of 1833 by Peter Van Nice, in Hendricks County, to his sister, Flora Rose, in Kentucky, and preserved by her. The letter urges more haste on their part in making the removal to Indiana. This was before envelopes had come into general use, and the letter was unprotected by a wrapper and was secured only by the wax seal.

As one illustration of the scarcity of money in those hard times, Beers' History of the county tells of a man who was obliged to wait two months before he could pay the postage on a letter from friends in North Carolina, which had been all that time in the post office awaiting redemption.

But hard work and hard times did not narrow the sympathies of "Uncle Peter and Aunt Sallie", as they were known to all the country round, and they were noted for their hospitality, their home being always a favorite stopping place for ministers—ever welcome, Aunt Sallie's motto being always "For the sake of the cause". They were faithful members of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, and, rain or shine, Sunday always saw the family at the New Winchester "meeting house", some three miles from their home. They had the courage of their convictions, and nothing could ever swerve them from the course they chose from a sense of right and duty. The same can be said of most of those of their name and generation, and to their descendants they all have left a rich legacy of hardy health and sturdy endurance, of high ideals and unwavering faith in their maintenance.

Peter and Sarah Van Nice lived to within a few days of sixty years together, and in death were not separated, he dying February 9, 1888, in his 87th year, and she, on February 12, in her 79th year. They were laid to rest in the same grave, in the old family burying ground west of the house on his farm.

Van Nice went to Lucas County, Iowa, and entered land adjoining that entered by his brother in law, Tandy Allen, in 1852, and on these farms and in Russell the two have lived near neighbors most of their lives. Samuel and Mary Van Nice sold their farm and moved to Russell, Iowa, in 1894, where they lived continuously until her death, August 11, 1916. They came to their new home in 1856 and found a naked prairie, with few neighbors, and none near, but the usual cabin of the pioneer settler was soon erected, and it housed as many hopes and as much happiness as the more pretentious domicile which in a few years took its place. They were among the earlier members of the La Grange Cumberland Presbyterian Church, and had an important part in its upbuilding. They celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary in 1915, surrounded by a large circle of friends.

Van Nice, was born in Hendricks County, Indiana, February 28, 1835, and taught a short time before she was married on January 29, 1856, to Tandy Allen, son of Robert and Mary (Polly) Allison Allen. He was born near Mt. Sterling, Montgomery County, Kentucky, June 3, 1832, and when but six years of age was taken by his parents to a farm near Bainbridge in Putnam County, Indiana, where he lived until early manhood. August 4, 1852, in company with two cousins, Milton Cooper and John Call, he started on horseback for Lucas County, Iowa, where they arrived in about three weeks. Here near the village of LaGrange, he entered 120 acres of government prairie land, paying therefor, according to land regulations then in force, $1.25 per acre. He then went back to Indiana and remained until the summer of 1854, when he returned to Iowa, entered more land, built a log house on it, and "broke" part of the prairie with ox teams. He had learned the road well before he finally went back, before Christmas, 1855, to bring to this Iowa home the help-mate of his life for the past sixty years. He and Samuel N. Van Nice drove through in wagons with their goods, starting about February 10, 1856. Their wives, Joanna Van Nice Allen and Mary Allen Van Nice, went by rail to the Father of Waters at Burlington, walked across on the ice, there being no bridge, and no railroad west of the river, and made the remainder of their journey by stage. Russell did not appear on the map until thirteen years later when the railroad came, and Chariton was a very small village. An uncle, Douglas Allen, had settled near LaGrange in 1849, and the new comers received the heartiest of welcomes, and immediately found a niche to be filled in the C. P. Church and the social life of the sparsely settled community. As the family increased, the farm was increased to about a section of land, which is still in the possession of the family. Except four years residence in Chariton, from 1894 to 1898, they lived on this farm until about December 1, 1900, when they moved to Russell, where they still reside, active and interested, and their acquaintances are "confident that their health will never be impaired by lack of exercise". All the experiences common to life on the frontier which have been recounted in preceding chapters, came to them also, and theirs also were the usual rewards of toil and self denial in a new country, for the sake of those who come after. They saw the conveniences of life and educational opportunities multiply, but were as happy in bringing these things about as in the fruition of their hopes. This worthy couple, surrounded by all their children and many friends, celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary in 1916.

He had been first married December 8, 1814 to Jane E. Rutledge of Virginia, who was born April 1, 1793, and they lived five years in that state, and afterward in Hawkins County, Tennessee. In 1829, however, they emigrated to Boone County, Indiana, where Jane Rutledge Young died September 4, 1830, leaving five children. The wife of one of these, Mrs. William Carroll Young, is still living,

CHAPTER XI

TEUNIS VAN NUYS,

Teunis 5, Isaac 4, Isaac 3, Jacobus 2, Aucke 1.

DESCENDANTS of Isaac and Flora (Quick) Van Nuyss in line of their son Teunis.

6_5 TEUNIS VAN NUYS was born in Somerset County New Jersey, September 10, 1775, and went to Mercer County, Kentucky, probably in 1791. On March 25, 1802 he was married there to Catherine Demaree, who was born in Pennsylvania, April 9, 1785, a daughter of Samuel R. and Nancy Demaree, who had emigrated to Kentucky.* Teunis Van Nuyss lived in Mercer and Shelby Counties, Kentucky, until 1836, and accumulated considerable property. Then he moved to Johnson County, Indiana, whither some of his children had already gone, and there he became a large landowner. He was a member of the Presbyterian Church, a man of the strictest integrity, whose influence was always exerted for good. He died March 7, 1849. His wife died November 3, 1844.

Children:

1_6 SAMUEL VAN NUYS

was born January 23, 1803, in Mercer County, Kentucky, and received the best schooling obtainable at that day.

*NOTE—Catherine Demaree was descended from David des Marest (Demarest) a French Huguenot, whose father had gone from France to Middleburg, Holland. David des Marest, born about 1623, married Marie Sohler in Middleburg, July 24, 1643, and they came to New Amsterdam in the ship Bontekou in 1663, and joined the French colony there. But in 1677 he purchased from the Indians about 4000 acres of land in Bergen County, New Jersey, on the Hackensack River, and the Carteret heirs perfected his title to it. His purpose was to found a French Colony, but settlers were few at first, and being surrounded by the Dutch, neither the French language nor the French church survived. However, the Demarest family thrived, and children of the three sons of David—Jean, David, Jr., and Samuel—occupied these lands.

The late Rev. David D. Demarest, who is authority for the foregoing, says: "Before the Revolutionary War some of the family emigrated to the Conewago settlement, in York County, Pennsylvania, and one of these emigrants, Samuel Demaree, moved thence to Harrod's Station Kentucky."

This Samuel married Susanna Brouer, and the dates of baptism

September 13, 1827, he was married to Amy List, born February 23, 1804, and within a year or two they emigrated to the wild regions of Central Indiana and settled near Franklin, Johnson County, on a farm of 160 acres, which he purchased from the government. Amy List died there April 7, 1879. These Kentuckians brought their religion with them, and in May, 1831, the Hopewell Church was organized, and Samuel Van Nuys was chosen an elder, which office he held until his death, July 20, 1890. For a good many years he was the popular preacher of the Church, which, in that day was considered a high office. In the absence of the pastor, "Uncle Sammie" always read the sermons.

This Hopewell church is still one of the most flourishing rural congregations in the state of Indiana. It has always been the center of a broad circle of influence, having sent out perhaps more ministers, and Sabbath School and social service workers than any other country congregation in the Presbyterian Church. And the descendants of Teunis Van Nuys have had no small part, both among those who went out to fight and those that "staid by the stuff." Samuel Van Nuys did a great deal also in those early times to promote the facilities for education of the young people, even opening his own house and employing a teacher while a school house was being built.

Children:

1-7 GEORGE MILTON VAN NUYS, born August 18, 1828, in Mercer County, Kentucky, married Margaret LaGrange, of Hopewell, October 30, 1850, and located on a farm in Johnson County, Indiana. Here of three of their children are in the Conewago church record, viz.: Mary, 1777, Daniel, 1780 and Samuel, 1782. In supposing this to be the father of Catherine Demaree Van Nuys, there is only the difficulty of accounting for the two names, Susanna and Nancy, for we know that the Conewago records are not quite complete. Either the two are different forms of the same name, or Nancy was the name of his second wife. Samuel Demaree's name is in the list of York County Militiamen who received "Depreciation pay" in the Revolutionary War. It also occurs each year from 1777 to 1783 inclusive in the tax lists of Straban Township, York County, showing assessment of 111 acres of land, one negro, and some cattle. Later tax-lists were not located.

Margaret LaGrange died, and he afterward married Elizabeth McFall. He died June 21, 1898. They had two

CHAPTER XII

JAMES VAN NUYS

James 5, Isaac 4, Isaac 3, Jacobus 2, Aucke 1.

DESCENDANTS of Isaac and Flora (Quick) Van Nuys, in line of their son James.

7_5 JAMES VAN NUUYS was born in Somerset County, New Jersey, probably in 1777 or 1778, and went with his parents to Mercer County, Kentucky, in 1791. There on January 1, 1806, he married Tinie Bice, and moved to a farm in Henry County, near Pleasureville, where he spent his life and where some of his descendants still reside. This was in "The Dutch Tract" previously mentioned, which had been purchased by a company from Mercer County, including some of the Bices, Canines and Van Arsdales. James Van Nuys was a sergeant in the War of 1812, and was in the Battle of New Orleans. He lived to a great age, and was almost blind before he died.

Children of James and Tinie Van Nuys:

1_6 MARY VAN NUYS

was born July 17, 1806, and married William Jacoby,

*NOTE—Tinie Bice was a descendant of Jan Cornelis Buys, (Later spelling Buis, Boyce, Bice) through his son Jacob, who settled in Middlesex County, New Jersey, and was ancestor of the Somerset County Boyce and Bice families. Cornelis Buys came from Holland in 1648, and was married in New Amsterdam about 1653, to Ida Lubbertse. They lived at Flatbush, Long Island. His sons were Hendrick, Lubbert, Cornelius, Jacob and Matthys. This Jacob had a son Cornelius, who it appears was the father of Dennys Buys, whose daughter Tinie married James Van Nuys. According to one informant, this Dennis married Annie Cebern, but the record of baptisms in the Dutch Reformed Church at Neshanic, New Jersey, reads, Denys and Annie (Lebant) Buys, with children's names and ages so nearly the same that there can be no doubt of their identity.

Lydia Buys, baptized May 25, 1766. Aeltie, baptized August 7, 1768. Cornelius, baptized April 21, 1771. Maria, baptized August 1, 1773, Johannes, baptized April 1, 1778. Catelyna, baptized November 10, 1780.

The above are from the records of the Neshanic Church. But it seems that Dennis and Annie Lebant Buys then moved to that re-who was born March 30, 1810, and died March 27, 1888. She died at Pleasureville, Kentucky, in 1898.

"Aunt Mary" Jacoby, as she was affectionately called by relatives and friends, was a pioneer in many ways, and her stories of Indian fights, many of which she herself saw, together with incidents of the Civil War, always drew for her an interested audience. She was not connected with any church as a member, but her activity in caring for those sick or afflicted was continuous. No night was too dark or too cold for her to answer the summons and render assistance. She resided on her farm near Pleasureville, and her quaint home with the old spring and orchards was a pleasure to behold. Her cooking in the old fireplace was a marvel to the younger generations who saw her dextrous manipulation of the old iron skillets and other articles. No modern artist can fully portray the scenes enacted in her humble home, where "peace and plenty" was as natural an emblem as this same motto on the old china "from across the water" which graced her table. She rode her horse, and amused her friends, even when past middle age, by placing her hand on the horse's mane, then springing from the ground into the saddle, without assistance. She rode on a rail-markable settlement of New Jersey people at Conewago in York (now Adams) County, Pennsylvania, for in the Conewago Church baptismal record is found:

"November 12, 1786, Antie Buis, daughter of Dennis and Antie (Lebant) Buis."

And Dennis Van Duyn Buys is among the names of those known to have resided at Conewago. Aeltie, Maria, Johannes and Catelyna we know as Dutch forms of Letitia or Lettice. Mary, John and Catherine, and no doubt Tinie is a diminutive of Antie, and that Tinie Bice was born at Conewago, Pennsylvania, November 12, 1786, and was of the number who went down the Ohio River to what is now Maysville, and then went overland to Mercer County, Kentucky.

Dennis Bice was born December 1, 1745, and died July 18, 1835. Annie Bice, his wife, was born March 6, 1748, and died June 21, 1813. Their children: Lydia Bice married Andrew Canine. Lettice Bice married John Brinkerhoff. Cornelius Bice married Annie Demaree. Mary Bice married Peter Canine. John Bice married Phoebe Demaree. Catherine Bice married John Davis. Tinie Bice married James Van Nuys.

road train for the first and only time, just a few years before she died. She was the embodiment of a noble type of womanhood.

2_6 DENNIS BICE VAN NUYS, son of James and Tinie Bice Van Nuys, was born in Henry County, Kentucky, February 14, 1808, and was married January 19, 1832, to Sarah Ann Sams. They lived on a farm in Henry County for a good many years, then moved to Louisville, Kentucky, where he died, July 27, 1851. They were members of the Baptist Church. Mrs. C. V. Holland relates the following: Sarah Ann Sams received a number of slaves as her "marriage portion" of the estate of her father, but Dennis Van Nuys did not "believe in slavery", hence they agreed to free them, but the slaves would not leave their owners. So they set off a portion of their place, which was divided up for the slaves to work. They were instructed to work on their own allotted ground when not employed on the regular plantation, and the proceeds of the land cultivated by each slave was securely placed for his benefit. Thus it was worked for years, until finally, when slavery was abolished, these slaves had various sums of money up to $30,000 each, which was given to them. The slaves remained faithful, and up to the time of her death and the death of her daughter, Eliza Van Nuys Holland, the slaves would come and go on visits to their former owners. Even today when members of the family go back to the old home community the descendants of the former slaves will flock in to see them.

- 1_7 JAMES MADISON VAN NUYS, was born April 23, 1833, and on June 2, 1856, he was married to Mary Hawkins, near Warsaw, Kentucky. For some years they resided in Henry County, near Pleasureville, but they finally moved to Warsaw, Gallatin County, where he died, April 2, 1901. His widow died at Warsaw, April 27, 1902. James Madison Van Nuys was a man of few words and of very positive character, and he was a writer of no mean ability. He was a Royal Arch Mason, and for many years represented his lodge in the Grand Lodge at Louisville. They were Baptists. Some of his children, in common with other branches of the family, have seen fit to change their family name to Vannice or Van Nice, but which use the latter spelling, is not shown in the data sent in, all being spelled Van Nuys.

December 1, 1837, at Louisville, Kentucky, and on November 30, 1853, was married there to William Allison Holland, who was born at Edinburg, Indiana, and was a descendant of Lord Holland, of England. In a short time they removed to New Castle, Kentucky, and thence to Eminence, in that state, where, in 1868, William Allison Holland established "The Constitutionalist", a weekly newspaper, which he successfully conducted as editor and publisher until his death, which occurred December 27, 1903. He was a keen observer of affairs, a clear thinker, and an able writer, and in the conduct of "The Constitutionalist" he established a well-earned reputation as one of Kentucky's leading journalists. Eliza Van Nuys Holland spent her life in Kentucky, and with the aristocrat's pride in both state and family, she shared his intolerance of whatever might tend to lower the dignity or tarnish the name of either. She was one of the rare number who kept any record of the Van Nuys family. She died at Eminence, Kentucky, August 10, 1901. They were members of the Christian Church, as are all their Children:

MAGDALENE VAN NUYS VAN DER VEER

Magdalene 5, Isaac 4, Isaac 3, Jacobus 2, Aucke 1.

?-5 MAGDALENE VAN NUYS, daughter of Isaac and Flora (Quick) Van Nuys, married Henry Van der Veer, and left descendants, but none of them have been located, altho' there are many Vandiviers and Vandivers in Kentucky and Indiana. If this should fall under the eye of any who trace their lineage to this couple, their record will be acceptable, if sent in. Magdalen seems always to have been called Laney or Leena. Hendrick Van der Veer's name occurs in the list of those known to have lived in the Conewago settlement in Pennsylvania, and the following entry is found in the records of the Dutch Reformed Church there:

“Baptized November 8, 1789, Child Seyntie; parents Hendrick Van der Veer and wife Leena.”

This record makes 1768 or 1769 seem probable as the date of Laney's birth, and places her between Peter and John in the family of Isaac. But Hendrick VanderVeer was in Mercer County, Kentucky in 1819 and in 1829, as proved by his signature attached to the two agreements entered into by the heirs in those years. The names of their children that have come down to us are:

1_6 JOHN VAN DER VEER

2_6 ISAAC VAN DER VEER

3_6 FLORA VAN DER VEER

7_6 ELIZA VANNICE GALEY.

SEE CHAPTER TEN

The name of one daughter, Eliza, was inadvertently omitted when the list of children of John and Letitia (Canine) Van Nice was sent, and it has only very recently been supplied. It is given here, as the families of John Van Nice and Richard Canine are so closely related.

ELIZA VAN NICE, the seventh child, was born in Kentucky, February 25, 1810, and on April 14, 1829, in Shelby County, she was married to Samuel Smith Galey, who was born August 26, 1809, and was a son of Samuel Galey, who had come from the Little Pedee River country, in South Carolina. The Galey and Van Nice families resided “across the road” from each other, about three miles east of Shelbyville, Kentucky. In the fall of 1829, the Galey family moved to Montgomery County, Indiana, Samuel and wife coming with them. Eliza Galey rode on horseback on the trip out, and he drove a four-horse team to a big schooner wagon, containing the goods of both families. Checklines had not then come into use, and his father rode one horse and drove the other to a small light wagon, in which the mother and an aunt rode. Thus they made the journey, which required over a month. Samuel Smith Galey entered land three miles west of Crawfordsville, and on it they spent the remainder of their lives. She died August 7, 1852. He died February 15, 1893.

CHAPTER XV

CORRECTIONS AND ADDITIONS.

After the body of this work went to press, a number of late items were grouped and added for reference with

ERRATA.

—On pages 18 and 62, read "Martha Van Arsdalen Van Nuys" for "Marie Van Arsdalen Van Nuys."

—On page 36 read "army rosters" for "army of rosters."

—page 71, "whither each had gone" for "has gone".

—page 79, "Isaac, son of Henry and Leah" for "Isaac, son of Isaac and Leah".

—page 84, under "2-7 John Van Nuys" it should be stated that two of his daughters are Mrs. Elizabeth Coats of Delphi, Indiana, and Mrs. Lillie Ball of Indianapolis.

—page 134. 7-8 Florence Mabel is now in Seattle.

—page 135. In the autumn of 1916, Claude Cornelius Van Nuys was selected by the trustees as head of the Department of Physics, in the Colorado School of Mines, at Golden, which chair he now holds.

—page 225. Samuel Demaree and Susanna Brower were married in Bergen County, New Jersey, on December 1, 1763, according to the records of the Dutch Reformed Church at Schraalenburgh, in that county.

—page 232. Read "O" for "A" in Cornelius.

In page headings read RECORD for HISTORY, the latter word being a misnomer, inasmuch as the compiler disclaims any idea of writing a history of the family. The only apology that can be offered for the lack of uniformity and the many lapses in diction, is the "piecemeal" method of compiling the work, necessitated by its being done entirely in the odd moments of a busy life. The work has grown far beyond the bounds originally intended.

NECROLOGY.

—page 174. Samuel Noel Van Nice of Russell, Iowa, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Smiley Littleton, on December 14, 1916.

—page 193. Mary Taylor died in October, 1916.

More cuts would have added to the interest, but numerous requests failed to bring responses of photographs.

NAME.

Some have dissented from the opinion herein expressed, that Aucke Janse Van Nuys took the surname Van Nuys after going to Amsterdam—possibly even after reaching New Amsterdam. One correspondent says she has always heard that the name was "Nuys" in France, but that after the family removed to Holland the right to the prefix "Von" was conferred upon them, and this was changed to "Van" after they had been in America some time. This would indicate German rather than Dutch descent, of which latter there is not the slightest doubt.

Another reports that he has been reliably informed that Van Nuys is the name of a well-known family in Holland at the present time. However, the preponderance of evidence seems to sustain the view given in the introduction, concerning the origin of the name.

In this connection it may be stated that a number of persons have mentioned a Van Nuys coat of arms, and the one most frequently described consists of three swans on the shield. A cut which purports to be the coat of arms of a branch of the Van Nuys family in Holland, is given in this record on another page, but it is doubtful, to say the least, whether any of the American families are entitled to the use of either.

The various ways of spelling the name are confusing, but, although there seems a growing disposition to revert to and adopt the original spelling (Van Nuys), there is small probability that its adoption will ever be general.

Mrs. Susanna H. Van Nuys, of Los Angeles, California, widow of Isaac Newton Van Nuys, writes that her husband, born in November, 1835, was a son of Peter Van Nuys, who married a Miss Kerr, in New Jersey, and moved to Danville, New York, where Isaac Newton was born. This family has aided materially in the development of Los Angeles, and they have been prominent in its business and social life. A hotel and a suburb bear their name. There can be little doubt that they are descendants of Aucke Janse Van Nuys, our earliest ancestor in America.

Stanley H. Van Nuys of 1336 Vine Street, Cincinnati, Ohio, writes:

"My great, great grandfather Van Nuys, whose name was Isaac, was born July 19, 1765. He married Elizabeth Broadie on October 10, 1798. He died November 25, 1848.

My great grandfather, whose name was William, was born April 8, 1810, in Rossville, Ohio. He married Selina Harrison, April 23, 1828. He died January 23, 1859. The records indicate clearly that his ancestors were from Holland. His (William Van Nuys's) children were: John, Hezekiah, Isaac, Solomon, Cornelius, Jacob, William, Albert, Mattie, and Sadie. John had one daughter, who is not living. Hezekiah had one son, William, and one daughter, who are living in Pasadena, California. Isaac had two daughters and one son. One of the daughters, Letty Likte, is not living. The other, Hettie Boren, lives in Fountain City, Indiana. The son, Fred, lives in Seattle.

Solomon, my grandfather, who married Jane Anderson, had one son, Addalaska, (my father) and one daughter, Dors Bell, who is dead. My father had four children, Ina, Chelcie, Stanley and Lila. Chelcie married Karl Swan, of Richmond, Indiana.

Cornelius married Mollie Branden of Union City, Indiana. They have one daughter, who married a Mr. Lewis.

Jacob married in Idaho and had two sons. He changed his name to Van Ness.

William left home when quite young and has never been heard from.

Albert lives in Richmond, Indiana, and has two children, Winnie and Byrl.

Mattie married Jacob Ensley and had three children: One daughter married Oscar Anderson and has two sons. Harry Ensley married Fannie Harlan. He is a funeral director in Hagerstown. Sadie Ensley married Milton Harlan, and had one son, Dever Harlan, an attorney of Richmond, and one daughter, who married Albert Brown." We hope to hear how this branch is connected with the tree.
